CAUGHT A BLACK BEAR.

Two Hunters Get Fine Specimen up in the Mountains.

Brandon, May 28.—Ernest Hooker and Frank Taylor have been looking for bear on Rochester mountain, east of Brandon for several weeks past and, Saturday, by landing one of the finest specimens of the black variety ever seen in this vicinity. While lumbering on the mountain last winter an old horse was injured so badly as to necessitate killing, the carcass being dragged to one side and covered high with brush. On visiting the spot this spring, Mr. Taylor discovered traces of bear, the carcass having been uncovered and dragged about and partially eaten. Calling in the services of Hooker, a bear trapper of considerable experience, preparations were made to capture the animal alive, and after two unsuccessful attempts he was securely trapped with ropes and cords toward this end but died before his captors had succeeded in lugging him off the mountain. In weight, about 300 pounds, eight feet long, and with a perfect coat which showed not the least trace of white or brown but shown as a brilliant black.

PREMIER NOT YET READY

TO DISCUSS THE IRISH BILL.

Campbell-Bannerman Disappoints a Great Gathering.

London, May 28.—In anticipation of Premier Campbell-Bannerman's promise of announcement of the subject of the Irish Home Rule bill and other government measures, a large crowd assembled in the House of Commons today, but the premier was not ready to divulge the government's programme. When the question relating to the Irish bill was taken up, the premier asked that they be postponed for a week, when he would answer them and also outline the course proposed by the government in connection with the other business of the session.

The chief secretary for Ireland, Mr. Burrell, occupied his usual seat in the House.

SPORTS AT SEA.

How the Long Trip From Madeira to Cape Town is Enjoyed.

The voyage to Cape Town from Southampton or Madeira is a long one, sixteen to twenty days, says the Travel Magazine. And so we find passengers organized on board for transacting the ordinary concerns, amateur theatricals, deck games and the like familiar to all of us on the ordinary ocean going liner.

The programme is an ambitious one, comprising boxing, gymnastic drill, obstacle racing, cockfighting, cricket, baseball and football, egg and spoon races for men and girls and children, ordinary deck games and evening entertainment, such as concerts and dances.

The sack race for grown men is the delight of all the children, who love to see their fathers tied up in sacks and progressing by kangaroo-like bounds, whose uncertainty is made still more precarious by the pitch and roll of the great vessel. Nor must I forget the bolster and pillow fights, with competitors perched on horizontal bars, with their legs tied beneath. Some fighters display rare gameness and staying power, so that the onlookers feel quite grieved when they "go under." In a very literal sense.

Now and then an unfair wag will coat his trousers with resin and thus contrive to keep his balance in a way enabling him to withstand all comers. Of course the prizes are made up of the entrance fees paid by competitors, which may amount to 50 or 80 cents per head.

Why Penmen Get Tired.

The average person has no idea how much muscular effort is expended in writing a letter. A rapid penman can write thirty words in a minute. To do this he must draw his pen through the space of sixteen and a half feet. In forty minutes his pen travels a furious and in five hours a third of a mile. In writing an average word the penman makes in the neighborhood of sixteen curves of the pen. Thus in writing thirty words to the minute his pen would make 480 curves, 28,800 curves an hour and 86,400 curves in a year of 365 days of ten hours each. The man who succeeded in making 1,000,000 curves with a pen in a month was not at all remarkable. Many men make 4,000,000 while merely writing—Minneapolis Journal.

CHICAGO CUBS MEET DEFEAT

Cincinnati Defeated 'Em Yesterday, 3 to 2

AND NEW YORK NOW LEADS

Giants Didn't Play, But the Victory of the Reds Over Chicago Broke the Tie for First Place—St. Louis Shut Out Pittsburgh.

Rain interfered with all but two games in the big league yesterday, none at all being played in the American circuit. In the National league Cincinnati got away with Chicago by the score of 3 to 2, by playing an errorless game and hitting the ball hard. St. Louis shut out Pittsburgh by the score of 5 to 0. Thus by lying idle the New York Giants are enabled to step back into first place, thanking Cincinnati for it.

FOR OUR READERS

To Prove That Hyomel Will Cure Catarrh, Every Reader of The Times Can Have a Special Guarantee.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of Hyomel, the medicated air treatment, to cure all catarrhal troubles, the remarkable offer made by Rickett & Wells should dispel that doubt. They give their personal guarantee with every dollar outfit of Hyomel they sell to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction. They take all the risk of cure, and no reader of The Times can afford to suffer longer with catarrh when an offer like this is made.

With every Hyomel outfit is a neat pocket inhaler, and Hyomel, breathed through this inhaler, reaches the most remote air-veils of the nose, throat and lungs, destroying all catarrhal germs, and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Hyomel really gives you a health-giving climate in your own home, so that when you breathe its medicated air your nose, throat and lungs will be filled with air like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants, which purify the air with their volatile antiseptic fragrance, so healing to the respiratory organs.

You will notice relief and benefit from the first use of Hyomel, and it will not take many days' treatment to convince you that in this remedy you have found a complete and lasting cure for all catarrhal troubles.

CARTAGENA.

Colombia Has the Oldest Walled City in This Hemisphere.

One of the few walled cities in this hemisphere and perhaps the oldest, is that of Cartagena, Colombia, South America. The wall, which is still standing and in excellent condition, stretches its irregular circumference several miles in enclosing what was one of the gayest, wealthiest and largest cities of the new world in the days of Spanish supremacy. It is said that $50,000,000 was spent in constructing this wall, and it must be remembered that three or four centuries ago that meant considerably more money than it does now.

The wall is wide enough to accommodate several teams abreast. Its top is flat in most places, while at intervals there stand sentry boxes, showing that the wall was meant to guard the light hearted residents within its enclosure from sudden attacks either by sea or by land.

At one end of the wall near the sea is still to be seen the government prison. Here there is a long row of cells, which are still kept for the use of prisoners. At present these offenders are much sought by tourists to the Spanish main, for many of the men confined there have for sale exquisite carvings on shell and wood.—New York Herald.

IN CASE OF FIRE.

The Landlord Told His Literary Guest How to Get Out.

In the days before the dawn of his fame it was the practice of a certain well known author to wander up and down the land seeking what he might devour in the way of suggestion and local color. In this way he had drifted into Arkansas, "roughing it," and not as he expressed it, presenting an appearance calculated to inspire a hotel proprietor with unlimited confidence.

The only hotel in the town, a frame structure, seemed to have been built upon the theory that there was plenty of room straight up, but that ground had to be bought, and the wanderer was shown to a room on the third floor, reached through many narrow and winding passages. From the one window it was a straight drop to the ground.

"Say, how would I get out of this place in case of fire?" he asked the landlord, who had brought up his grip.

The other eyed him coldly. "Well," he drawled, "all ye would have to do would be to know your night watchman—the one with that shotgun—a receipted bill for ye 'board 'n' lodgin' an' get him to tie up the bulldog."—Cleveland Leader.

A Mission That Failed.

The Sire de Joinville tells us in his "Histoire de St. Louis" how a certain Brother Yves of the preaching friars once met while crossing a street in Damascus at the time of the sixth crusade an aged woman who carried in her right hand a bowl of fire and in her left a bottle of water.

"Where are you going?" asked the Brother Yves.

"I go," said she, "to burn up heaven with the fire and put out hell with the water, and so I will make an end of both."

"And for why will you do this?" asked the friar.

"Because," said she, "I would that we did good neither for the joys of heaven nor for the fear of hell pain, but purely for the love of God, who deserves so well of us and who is able to deliver us from evil."

More Important.

"Did I understand you to say," asked Mrs. Chatters, "that your husband had no vocation?"

"Worse than that," replied the minister's wife. "I said he'd had no vacation."—Philadelphia Press.

If the Chicago Packers Keep Their Word

COMMISSIONERS ALARMED

Hot Dispute With Commission Houses Over Payment for Condemned Cattle May End Inspection—Government May Withdraw Service.

Chicago, May 28.—Meat prices in Chicago may jump skyward this week. The packers notified the commission firms that beginning yesterday they no longer would stand the loss on condemned cattle, and in order to protect themselves they have found it necessary to refuse payment on "cow stuff" until it had passed the government inspectors.

The latter part of last week thousands of letters and telegrams were sent out by the commission men to their customers notifying them of the action that had been taken by the packers and advising them to withhold all shipments of cattle to the big markets until the difficulty is adjusted. This is expected to cut the meat supply tremendously before the week is over and the prices are expected to go up correspondingly.

Commission men declare it is the intention of the packers to enforce the rule with regard to "cow stuff" now, in the hope that similar action may be taken later with reference to their purchase of sheep and hogs.

Some of the leading commission firms and shippers have communicated with the secretary of agriculture at Washington with regard to the new action on the part of the packers and it is said assurances have been given that any attempt to delay payments on livestock, as threatened by the packers, would result in the withdrawal of the inspection service.

SMASHED GLASS IN KUROKI'S CAR

Porter Ejected Intruder on General's Privacy at Niagara Falls.

Niagara, Falls, N. Y., May 28.—Two men attempted to force their way into the private car of Gen. Kuroki before it left for Buffalo last night. The porter, seated at the door, opened it partly, when the men asked for something to drink.

The porter attempted to close the door, but one of the men placed his foot against and called to his companion to come on. The porter, goggled with the intruder and finally ejected him. As the man was thrown out he turned and smashed the glass in the door.

It was said today that the authorities know the parties and their arrest is expected. It is believed that the men were intoxicated.

ZERO BLIZZARD HITS MICHIGAN.

Six Inches of Snow in Petoskey—Severe in Other States.

Detroit, May 28.—Snow is reported from all over the lower peninsula of Michigan yesterday, with a veritable winter blizzard prevailing over the Saginaw valley. Cadillac reports that five inches of snow fell last night, with more coming, and six inches have fallen at Petoskey. Snowfall during the morning at Jackson and Sault Ste. Marie, a cold rain fell, with the thermometer hovering close to the freezing line. High winds are reported from all of the lakes.

It is feared that the cold will cause heavy damage to vegetation. At several points above the straits the temperature has gone down to 2 degrees below zero.

Ian MacLaren Buried.

Liverpool, May 28.—An immense crowd flocked to the funeral yesterday of Dr. John Watson ("Ian" MacLaren), who died in Mount Pleasant, la., on May 6. There was an impressive service at the Sulton Park Presbyterian church, where the embalmed body had rested since its arrival from the United States.

THE LIGHTNING ROD.

Franklin's Theory Was Known Away Back in Talmudic Times.

In an article on "Current Topics in Ancient Literature" J. D. Eisenstein says in the Sydney (Australia) Standard:

"The lightning rod was invented by Benjamin Franklin in 1752 to arrest the electricity of the thunder. When the information of the discovery reached Rabbi Saul Katzenellenbogen of Wilna, he said that the theory was not new, because it was already known in Talmudic times, and he showed a passage in the Tosefta (third century) where it says that 'on Sabbath it is permitted to place an iron near the lightning to safeguard the fowls from lightning strikes.' The Talmudic sages said: 'There is nothing superstitious about this belief.' (Tosefta, Shabbat, chapter 8, end.)

The system of telegraphy, in a crude manner, is curiously described by Judah b. Jacob Chayot in his commentary 'The System of Theology' chapter, 'The Gate of the Chariot' (see page 218, ed. Ferrara, 1568). Chayot is perhaps the first Hebrew author who transcribes the term 'lightning' and he explains the physical phenomena as follows: 'If you break the magnet into two parts and separate them at any distance, even a thousand miles apart, any movement caused by a joining wire to one part will be repeated by the other part' (quoted also in Shelah, page 304, ed. Amsterdam, 1708).

Wanted a Decision. "Get another doctor," demanded Mr. Gotz, "to pass on my ailment."

"Are not four physicians sufficient?"

"Yes; but I don't want to risk no the vote."—Washington Herald.

Reason For Heavy Wheels. Everywhere in the old world, the wheels of wagons and carriages are two or three times as heavy as those on corresponding vehicles in America, and so appear clumsy and cumbersome to us. The explanation of the difference is that our wheels are made of hickory, a wood unknown abroad, which supplies the requisite strength in smaller size.—Travel Magazine.

THE SNOW BUNTING.

A Feathered Songster of the Arctic's Treeless Wastes.

One of the most interesting of arctic birds is the snow bunting or polar singing bird. A native of Spitzbergen and Nova Zembla, its short, agreeable notes sound doubly sweet when heard in these treeless wastes. The birds build their nests in the mountain clefts or under large rocks, lining them with feathers and down. In winter time their plumage is warm and abundant and especially fits them for the rigor of an arctic winter. During the breeding season and summer they live entirely on insects, particularly gnats, while in winter they subsist on moss, roots and seeds. Some winters less rigorous than others they are in abundance, but at times famine compels them to seek a more favorable climate, and they are then seldom found until they invariably reappear toward spring. These buntings are distinguished by a long claw on their hind toe, a structure which really enables them to run about with ease on the soft snow.

Of the other birds I may mention puffins, divers, loons, doves, gulls, skuas, burgooners, kittiwakes, terns, swans, geese, hawks, eagles and every variety of ducks known to inhabit the northern shores of America and Europe, including the scoter, long tail, scaup duck, merganser, goosander and raven. These delight in reveling and resting among the moss covered banks and shores and among grasses and shrubs that exist about the polar willow with its horizontal roots and shrubs, for in this country the forests are more in than above the earth—Field and Stream.

SHE HAD A REPUTATION.

But the Customer Was Not Going to Eat the Lady.

A lady who intended to give a dinner to some friends at which the piece de resistance was to be duck shot by her husband on the shores of eastern Maryland, decided that none but the very best jelly should be served as an accompaniment to the dainty fare.

So she proceeded to a gorgeous Broadway establishment, a place where one pays a quarter apiece for tomatoes and a dollar a snail for asparagus at certain seasons of the year. The jelly the clerk offered her did not appear to be just what she wanted, so she suggested another variety.

"But, madam," said the clerk haughtily, "this is the very best jelly you can buy. It is made by Mrs. McGuggin of Brooklyn." And he pointed to the label on the jar.

"I've never heard of it," modestly suggested the lady. "Are you sure it's all right? Do you guarantee it?"

Seeing that his customer was extremely mild of character and perhaps to be easily rattled, the clerk smiled in a patronizing way. "Guarantee" repeated he, more haughtily than ever. "Madam, we don't have to guarantee Mrs. McGuggin's jelly. Her name is enough. This lady, madam, has a reputation!"

"Oh, I have no doubt of that, I'm sure," broke in the mild mannered lady, with a heightened color. "I'm not questioning the lady's reputation. It was the jelly, I assure you!"—New York Tribune.

What Women Wear in Iceland.

The usual dress of the women of Iceland, irrespective of wealth or station, consists of a long garment of woolen hanging from the shoulders to the heels and fastened with a bright clasp at the neck. Over this two or three blue or white petticoats are worn, while a blue cap, hanging down on one side of the head, completes the costume. On Sundays and festivals the dresses are both peculiar and striking in appearance. There is a bodice, or tunic, with gilt buttons and red and black velvet. Over this is a tight fitting velvet jacket, or "traja," beneath two or three bright petticoats, blue or red, worned stockings and shoes of seal or shark skin. The whole is surmounted by a remarkable head-dress, very beautiful in effect. The "faldur," as it is called, is made of stiffly starched white linen, kept in place by innumerable pins and measuring often so much as two feet in height.—Scottish Nights.

The Onion's Virtues.

Onions are really sweeteners of the breath after the local efforts have passed away, says one learned doctor. They correct stomach disorders and carry off the accumulated poisons of the system. They provide a blood purifier that all may freely use. As a cathartic the onion cannot be surpassed and eaten raw will often check a violent cold in the head. One small onion eaten every night before retiring is this well known doctor's prescription for numerous affections of the head and is highly recommended for sleeplessness. It acts on the nerves in a soothing way, without the injurious effects of the drugs often applied.

Why He Hit Him.

"You shouldn't have hit that man who called you a liar."

"Shouldn't, hey?"

"No; you should have demanded the proof, and if he could not produce it he would have been branded as the falsifier."

"That's all right ethically, but I knew he had the proof."—Philadelphia Ledger.

NEW HAVEN IN MERGER

Pennsylvania, Lines South and West in Alliance

BIG TRAFFIC COMBINE

To Be Called Greater Pennsylvania System—Line From North Atlantic Coast to Gulf—Is Now Projected.

Boston, May 28.—In financial circles here and in New York there were well defined rumors of the formation of a merger of the Pennsylvania and New Haven railroads, or, at least, of a new working arrangement between them of considerable traffic importance. Washington dispatches also told of similar news. One story said that a southern railroad that is on friendly terms with the Pennsylvania, would be taken into the combination. None of these stories could be verified at the New Haven office, but the fact regarding the formation of a new company to handle the steamboat traffic of the New Haven was made public yesterday afternoon.

The business of this new corporation is to take charge of the fiscal operation of the marine interests of the New Haven company, turning into the latter monthly balances. It is likely the same plan will be applied thereafter to other local interests of the New Haven company.

LOWIE'S SUCCESSOR NOW THREATENED WITH DEFEAT.

800 Zionists Unite to Overthrow Overseer Voliva.

Chicago, May 28.—Following a riotous meeting in Shiloh Tabernacle at Zion city yesterday, in the course of which Wilbur Glenn Voliva, John Alexander Lowie's successor as head of the Christian Catholic church, found it necessary to call for police intervention to restore order, 800 opponents of Voliva last night having united to overthrow him at the September church council.

The clash came over the alleged opposition of the overseer to the calling of a general conference. Voliva answered that he had the right to name his successor, and declared he would take the fight into the courts.
